DEAR EDITOR: As I am quite lonesome I will write a few lines for the Children's Column. I have not written for the paper for a long time. Why don't more children write for our column? Aunt Etta and Uncle Joe, why don't you write? I love so much, to read your letters. I am glad to tell you that I have started for Jesus since I wrote my last letter. I was baptized by our minister, Brother E. E. Haskins. I ask an interest in all your prayers that I may be faithful unto death. I hope there are a lot of boys and girls and also old people in Iowa, and all other places that love Jesus. The title for our lesson for next Sunday is, Christian Living. I think that is a good title for a lesson, don't you? The Golden Text is: Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good. Romans 12: 21. I think that is good advice and a good text also. My pa was at the World's Fair last week, and he had a good time. Let us see if we can fill up our column next week. Let us crowd out all the advertisements.

Our Dead.

FELTER.—On the fourteenth day of August, A. D. 1893, at Warsaw, Ind., Sister Angeline Felter, aged 53 yrs., 10 mos. and 19 das. Sister Felter was married at an early age and united with the United Brethren church, remaining a faithful member of that church until last Jan. She was an excellent Christian, a faithful wife and devoted mother. She died suddenly in her home, while at work. Funeral services were conducted by the writer at the East Warsaw Brethren church. She hath done what she could and gone to her reward. May the blessed Saviour unite the broken hearts on earth again, in heaven. Frat.

D. C. CHRISTNER.

FALKNER.—Died Oct. 13th, 1893, Floyd Winsley Falkner, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Falkner, at the age of 11 years, 6 months, and 26 days. Floyd was a member of the King's Children; possessed a sweet and loving disposition; was one of our active little members, and was much loved by all who knew him. He was deeply interested in the work of the King's Children and the Sunday school. About three hours before he died, he sent for his pastor. The visit to the little disciple of Jesus, was one of the most touching visits the writer has ever made, and it can never be erased from my mind. The last night of his life, too weak to say his prayers, he called his loving mother to say them for him. A touching scene. None but Jesus can know the depth of love or the consecration of that young disciple. Older people should learn a lesson from him. He never retired without saying his prayers. When too weak to pray, other lips should speak for him. A short service was held at the family residence, after which the remains were interred in the Bethel cemetery. A funeral service will be preached in the church in the near future.

J. O. TALLEY.

BLACK.—In the village of Fredericksburg, Blair county, Pa., Elda May, daughter of Crawford and Sister Beekie Black, departed this life September 28, 1893; aged five weeks. My Beloved has gone into his garden and gathered a lily to transplant it into his kingdom above. Funeral discourse by the writer from Job 19: 25: "For I know that my Redeemer lives."

In memory of Elda May, daughter of Crawford and Beekie Black. In the lone and silent grave, We have laid our Elda May, While her soul has gone to rest, In the regions of the blest: As we stand beside the tomb,

Light divine dispels the gloom
In the thought revealed from high,
She shall rise, and never die.

O thou death! thy sting is gone,
O thou grave! a victory won!
On the resurrection morn,
She shall join the heavenly throng;
There we hope to meet again
To embrace her little frame;
And with angels there to sing,
Glory to the Lord, our King.

S. B. FERRY.

MAXWELL.—Died October 8, 1893, Flossie Belle Maxwell, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Maxwell, at the age of 8 years, 7 months and 22 days. Flossie was a very talented child, and a member of the "King's Children," among whom her sweet and loving disposition wielded a most wholesome influence. She was one of our sweet little singers, and I need hardly say that the "King's Children" deeply mourn her sad departure. But Flossie has gone to the kingdom where sickness never shall come; and where she shall ever behold the face of her King.

A short funeral service was held at the family residence, Monday, October 9th, conducted by her pastor. A funeral sermon will be preached in the church in the near future. The remains were interred in the Bethel cemetery.

J. O. TALLEY.

SNELL.—At Longmont, Colorado, Sister Cathel Snell, wife of S. H. Snell, departed this life October 11th, 1893, aged 37 years, 8 months and 10 days. She leaves a husband and five children to mourn her departure. The oldest a girl of eighteen years, who can care for the smaller children. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. G. W. Fesler at the German Baptist Brethren church, west of Longmont, on Sunday, October 15. Our sympathy is with the family. "What is home without a mother?" Only put your trust in Jesus. Look forward to the meeting again in that better world where parting is no more.

JOHN BROWER.

MILLER.—Departed this life on the evening of October 15, 1893. Bro. Mansfield Miller, aged some over 32 years. On the above evening a message was sent in great haste for my service to comply with his request to anoint him with oil. I had about four miles to go to reach him, and not taking time to get my own conveyance, the messenger at once took me there. As soon as I entered the room I saw there was no time to lose. He reached me his hand, and a thrill passed through me as if I had hold of the hand of a corpse. So cold, while the cold sweat was upon his brow. I realized my position as the only elder present and sent for. What could I do? No time to spare. I at once thought, take Jesus as the elder above in elders, and anoint the sick brother. He was unable to speak but with a bow of the head he answered the question, "Are you entirely resigned to your God?" All questions were answered in the same manner very intelligently. After the anointing he seemed to rest easier and so signified, but in less than an hour he peacefully yielded his soul to God. The brother's home was in the city of Altoona, and he was employed as motor man on the No. 5 electric street car. It is said he was pleasant, courteous, popular, and very obliging. He had many friends and was an exemplary Christian. He and his wife, Sister Miller, and some of her near relatives had gone west, and before they left placed their two children, a son and daughter, into the home of her parents near Curry, Blair county Pa. While there, they contracted diphtheria and their parents were immediately telegraphed for. Soon after their arrival the daughter died and was interred Sunday evening a week before he died. In the house of Sister Miller's parents were now three families, and when the daughter died, seven were down with diphtheria, among the number were her little brother, her mother and grandmother. The night following the interment he took sick. When I anointed him the sick were all around me, and all except a little girl were convalescent. Such affliction I never before witnessed. The funeral discourse will be preached at some future time, when the affliction has passed over the remaining family, and near relatives. The obsequies at the house and grave over the departed were conducted by the writer. The bereaved and afflicted have the universal sympathy for miles around. May the Lord sustain all, and be a husband and father to the bereft.

S. B. FERRY.

PORTIS, KANS. Aug. 5.—To whom it may concern: Greeting. We the brethren of Osborne county, Kansas, met in council meeting at Brother Brumbaugh's, to consider the standing of Brother H. Leach. Deal gently with the erring!
Ye know not of the power
With which the dark temptation came

In some unguarded hour,
Ye may not know how earnestly
They struggled nor how well,
Until the hour of weakness came,
And sadly thus they fell.

CHORUS.

Forget not thou hast often sinned,
And sinful yet must be!
Deal gently with the erring one
As God hath dealt with thee.

GUSTER'S LAST BATTLEFIELD.

A visit to this spot, which is now a National cemetery, is extremely interesting. Here, seventeen years ago, General Custer and five companies of the Seventh U. S. Cavalry, numbering over 200 officers and men were cut to pieces by the Sioux Indians and allied tribes under Sitting Bull. The battlefield, the valley of the Little Big Horn, located some forty odd miles south of Custer, Montana, a station on the Northern Pacific railroad, can be easily reached by stage. If you will write Chas. S. Fee, St. Paul, Minn., inclosing four cents in postage, he will send you a handsomely illustrated 100 page book free of charge, in which you will find a graphic account of the sad catastrophe which overtook the brave Custer and his followers in the valley of the Little Big Horn in June, 76.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by J. C. Hall, & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,

Eld. Swihart's Testimonial.

Bozville, Ind., Aug. 23, 1893.
S. E. DUBBEL, Waynesboro, Pa.

Dear Sir:—After we have used largely in our own family, and have sold hundreds of dollars worth of your medicines, and do know of their merits, justice seems to demand that we should recommend them to the public.

As for the Cough and Croup Cure, it is the best remedy for colds and croup we ever used, and is an excellent antidote for that dreadful monster, La Grippe. The Carbolic Ointment is a noble remedy for old Sores, cuts, burns, etc., but the Red Thyme Pain Cure has no equal, to our knowledge, for aches of all kinds: cuts, Bruises, Burns, Sprains, Pains in the Stomach, back, head, etc.

Where it has been introduced people say that they can't do without it. The demand for it is growing rapidly.

J. H. SWIHART,

This offer gives families the chance to keep a small quantity of "Discovery," "Cough and Croup Cure" and "Pain Cure" in their homes for immediate use.
